

The background image shows a museum exhibit of ancient Egyptian hieroglyphs. On the left, a wall is covered in vertical columns of hieroglyphs. In the center, there are three distinct symbols: a sun disk with rays, a lotus flower, and a pair of crossed ankh symbols. To the right, a shelf holds several small, dark, rectangular objects. In the foreground, a wooden display case contains a grid of small, dark, rectangular objects, possibly papyrus seeds or similar artifacts. The lighting is warm and focused on the display.
